

About this attachment

DEDJTR commissioned Nous Group to facilitate policy workshops as part of the Continuous Improvement Project. The attached report prepared by Nous reflects ideas and proposals discussed during those workshops. The workshops were one input into the Continuous Improvement Project, alongside other streams of work.

The Nous report is included as an attachment to the final report of the Continuous Improvement Project. It should not be read in isolation. There has been considerable additional work by the project team to develop the actions and recommendations included in the project report.

DEDJTR is grateful for the intensive engagement of staff and executives across various departments and agencies, including local government. The participation of industry stakeholders at key points in the workshops is also much appreciated — the information and feedback they provided made a substantial contribution to the development of policy options.
