About the Company

ACN: 46 006 109 780

Website: psgffexploration.weebly.com

P.S & G.F Forwood is a private Australian junior exploration company, experienced in exploring for gold and copper in eastern Australia almost continuously since 1985, including in the region in western Victoria referred to geologically as the Stavely Arc. The company's exploration management team has also been involved in exploration projects across Australian and overseas including in Africa and Indonesia.

Proposed Exploration Program in Block 11, Stavely Arc

The company proposes to explore for copper and gold in the south western part of the Stavely Arc. If an exploration licence is granted, the company will commence its exploration program with initial community and stakeholder engagement activities, review of historical geoscience data and on the ground research, finalisation of workplans and then drilling to test targets for mineralisation.

Approach to engaging with communities

Through 35 years of working in western Victoria, the company has established relationships with local landholders and other stakeholders within the Stavely Arc. The company intends to continue its engagement with local landholders and other stakeholders in the region throughout its proposed exploration program, including during the licensing process, prior to field work surveys, after results are available and once further exploration activities have been planned. The company has committed to take into account the needs of diverse communities to be able to engage in the consultation process, and to be open and informative about its program. It expects to modify its exploration program as relevant, based on community/landowner feedback and seeks to ensure minimisation of any impacts.
